The parent book for this CD-Atlas is a fully illustrated diagnostic guide for the trainee and practicing hematologist. This CD-Atlas includes sections on transfusion and cytology, in addition to essential new information on genetics, leukemias, growth factors, clotting, and AIDS. Examples of both morphological abnormalities and clinical appearances are given for each condition discussed, and the user is guided through to further appropriate investigations such as histology, radiology, and computed tomography.

With the powerful words that marked her long and distinguished career, Jeane J. Kirkpatrick explores where America has gone wrong—and raises lingering questions about what perils tomorrow might hold. In Making War to Keep Peace, the former U.S. Ambassador to the UN traces the course of diplomatic initiatives and armed conflict in Iraq, Somalia, Haiti, Bosnia, and Kosovo to illuminate the dangerous shift from the first Bush administration's ambitious vision of a New World Order to the overambitious nation-building efforts of the Clinton administration. Kirkpatrick questions when, how, and why the United States should resort to military solutions—especially in light of the George W. Bush administration's challenging war in Iraq, about which Kirkpatrick shares her "grave reservations" for the first time.

New York Times Bestseller: The story of a down-on-his-luck desk clerk, a con man, and a fortune from the author of Rich Man, Poor Man. Pilot Douglas Grimes's best days are long behind him. Grounded due to a medical condition, Grimes has resigned himself to working nights at a seedy hotel. But his fortune flips when he discovers a guest dead from a heart attack and, next to him, a tube jammed with a fortune in cold hard cash. Grimes grabs the money and, with it, the chance to remake his life. Then, in Europe, he meets Miles Fabian, an elegant and erudite con man with a flair for extravagance. Fabian recruits Grimes for his latest ploy: robbing members of the idle rich. But when the fun ends and his bad behavior catches up with him, things will get a lot more dangerous in this clever thriller from the multimillion-selling legend who brought us The Young Lions and countless other bestsellers. Known for both his literary talent—with two O. Henry Awards to his name—and for his ability to tell a propulsive, full-steam-ahead story, Shaw is perfect for those who enjoy the thrillers of Marcus Sakey or Lawrence Sanders. This ebook features an illustrated biography of Irwin Shaw including rare images and never-before-seen documents from the author's estate.

PROFIT AND LOSS American Secret Service agents lie dead along with Colombian police after a raid on a counterfeiting ring turns into a storm of destruction. Stony Man Farm fears something far worse is looming on the horizon—a plot to destabilize the major currencies around the world. Fake money is flooding into both American and Chinese economies, threatening to launch a financial apocalypse. Mack Bolan's hard probe begins in Medellín, where he lays a trail of concentrated hellfire as he pushes to uncover the mystery brokers behind a power play that's put global stability on life support. Wreaking havoc in the cross fire of drug soldiers and Russian mobsters, the Executioner has a financial incentive of his own: collect the Devil's dues...in blood and bullets.

When do you learn that "normal" doesn't include lots of yelling, lots of sleep, lots of beating? In Blessed Are the Crazy: Breaking the Silence about Mental Illness, Family, and Church, Sarah Griffith Lund looks back at her father's battle with bipolar disorder, and the helpless sense of déjà vu as her brother and cousin endure mental illness, as well. With a small group study guide and "Ten Steps for Developing a Mental Health Ministry in Your Congregation," Blessed Are the Crazy is more than memoir—it's a resource for churches and other faith-based groups to provide healing and comfort. Part of The Young Clergy Women Project.

Like a tsunami barreling down the shoreline of an unsuspecting beach, the Book of Revelation had come upon mankind, and things got pretty horrid. Sure, there were warning signs, but those who "cried wolf" were dismissed by the mainstream as kooks and religious fanatics. In the blink of an eye, the world deteriorated into a living nightmare.... Excerpt: It was hot inside the wreckage, so very hot. Beads of sweat ran into Jim's eyes, stinging them. Or is that smoke burning my eyes? He could feel his pulse pounding in his temples, like the steady beat of a rock and roll song. Jim Tanker opened his eyes for the first time since the impact. Had he been sitting there for three minutes or three hours? He didn't know. The stench of gasoline, diesel, and exhaust fumes permeated the air around him. The first thing that struck him as odd was that there were no police, ambulance personnel or tow trucks. Everything was dead quiet, except for constant, mind numbing blare of radio static. Things were surreal, as if he had been in a drug induced haze. His back was stiff, his head was aching and most of all, his heart was aching, or was it broken? I must be going crazy. What I saw just didn't happen, couldn't happen. It's impossible. But Tanker saw what he saw, and felt what he felt and heard what he heard; that much was for sure. Had he been drugged? He certainly was not drunk at three in the afternoon on Easter Sunday. And even if he was, alcohol never made him hallucinate in the past. Although still in a state of shock, he recalled everything vividly. Every detail was crystal clear. He was starting to doubt his own sanity. He ran through the scenario in his mind's eye over and over again, and felt as if he were being badgered by an overly zealous insurance adjuster. These things just don't happen. But there he was, sitting in the driver's seat of his wife's Ford F-150 in the middle of Interstate 45 in the biggest pile up he had ever seen. Probably the biggest pile up that had ever taken place. Where is my family?

A septuagenarian fitness expert outlines a program that combines exercise, nutrition, hormones and holistic medicine to counsel men on how to approach aging from a strong and healthy perspective, drawing on various exercise disciplines while providing an accessible menu schedule. Recapture Your Heart's Truest Longings Deep in her heart, every woman longs for a man to see her beauty and cherish it. We long to be pursued and courted, and to make love to someone who truly loves us for keeps. Yet today, 'healthy and normal' implies giving ourselves sexually with no expectation of depth, intimacy, or commitment. We're expected to handle our relationships with men with no jealousy when they're threatened, no fear of their ending, and no grief when they do. The proof of our equality with men has become our ability to flatline a broken heart. Compassionate counselor Paula Rinehart understands the high price a woman pays in loosening her sexual boundaries, and the unique role sex plays in forging a bond meant to last a lifetime. She shows you how to break free from the bondage of misused sexuality and how to create a whole new start with men.
